I've lived in Darebin for 20 years and have been a regular customer at Preston Market for all of those years. I'm appalled by the proposal to demolish the market in favour of a developer led proposal to effectively eviscerate a friendly public space that has been improving year by year. The building envelope plan will ensure that the market will die sooner or later through creating overshadowed windswept places. It's an unfortunate fact that increased urban density in the proposed towers will not ensure the market's future. Increased urban residents in the city has not ensured that Queen Victoria Market thrived at the same time. No one goes to a "market" at the bottom of residential towers of the type proposed for this site. My discussion with market traders has revealed that they will be paying increased rent for a lesser amenity. Melbourne is almost unique in Australia for having thriving vital and diverse markets. If this development goes ahead Melbourne will see yet another market disappear.

I confirm that I have read and agree to the above conditions for making a submission.
