my name is [REDACTED] and I would like to make my point of view.

I regularly shop at the Preston Market and am active in the local community.

I have lived in the area for over 50 years. The Preston market has always been part of my shopping/social experience.

From my experience the market plays a vital role in my local community insofar as it provides an open space to shop for fresh foods at market prices. I speak on behalf of myself and all my multicultural friends who also frequent the market. We rely on the market for our freedom of shopping without packaging. Our freedom to make choices for the environment which the Government always promotes. This would be an ideal time to show us that you are serious.

Shopping and being in contact with people and building relationship with vendors, therefore, creating a quality of life that has enlivened people for many centuries. Walking around in supermarkets filling trolleys with over packaged items and then checking out with machines. I do minimal shopping in supermarkets so that I create less waste and therefore reduce rubbish which reduces the size of my rubbish bins.

I am yet to make sense that you would disadvantage the lower income earners, the elderly and people that cannot ride bikes or walk or expecting them to take a train to the market. Could you please map out how I am going to take home $120.00 worth of groceries on the back of a bike, walking or on a train. Vendors cannot earn a living with people spending $12.00 at the market buying a couple of bananas and apples etc. Vendors will not be interested in paying rent on stalls that are not profitable.

20 stories is outrageous and I am sure you know it. The developers are running the council and you all seem very interested in money. I am also very interested in money but not at the detriment of health. Whoever decided that 20 stories was a good idea will also be adding to depression. They are pulling down the commission flats because they didn't work and now you are building more. Do any overshadowing overlays come into play or you don't care about the wind tunnels and shade you will be creating. And please don't insult us with your beautiful drawings of greenery growing out of rooftops and windows.

I have not heard any complaints that the Preston Market is outdated or unpleasant. Myself and everyone I know who shops at the Preston Market loves and is proud and content to have such an amazing shopping icon. I know your minds are made up but PLEASE PLEASE PLEASE ONLY BUILD 8 STORIES AT THE MOST.

Everything I have outlined is heresay but also everything you have outlined about how the market will run is also heresay. There are so few markets that are as busy as the Preston market and now you will have taken away more freedom of the truly multicultural people that you promote we should respect.

Regards
