[REDACTED]	Not provided	The Greater Avalon Employment Precinct is an exciting step toward creating thousands of jobs and driving economic growth in our region. It's a bold vision that positions Avalon as a hub for advanced manufacturing, logistics, and innovation. This is great news for businesses and workers alike. But while we celebrate this progress, we also need to ask: how can this project do more for the community? Social procurement can be part of the solution to the area, it's a practical way to ensure that major projects deliver real social benefits. By embedding social procurement into the Greater Avalon plan, we can: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Provide second-chance employment opportunities for people who've faced barriers to work• Support local social enterprises and businesses that reinvest in community wellbeing• Create pathways for young people at risk, helping reduce youth crime and disengagement The region faces challenges like youth crime, unemployment and social disadvantage. Large-scale projects like this can be part of the solution. Imagine if every contract, every supplier, and every job	N/A	2025-11-19
